

The Iris® Platform | Identity Protection Designed by You for Your Customers

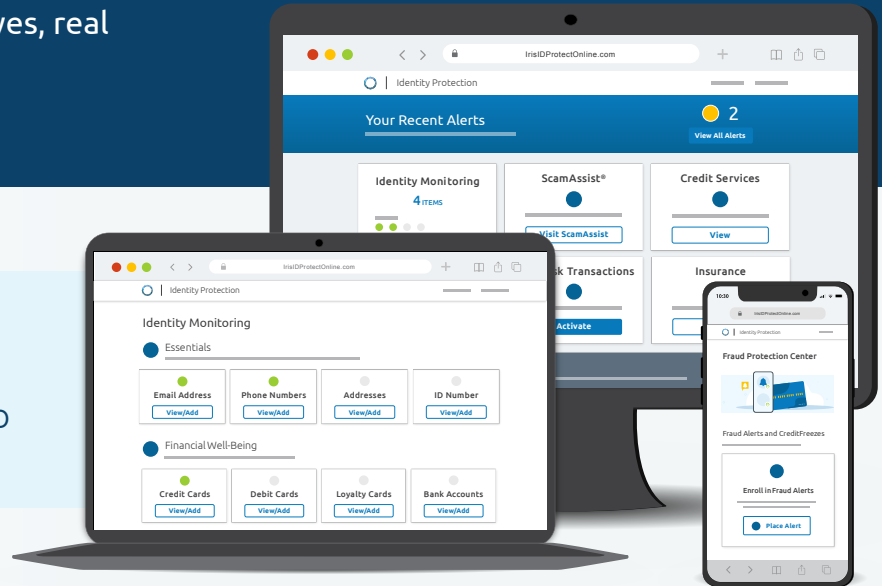

Powered by Generali

Iris is a B2B2C global identity and personal cyber protection company that offers tech-forward solutions that simplify the protection process for our partners and their customers. Our unique identity protection technology is complemented by award-winning and always-available identity resolution experts – yes, real certified people available 24/7/365.*

Iris allows you to control what you want your program to include and how you want to deliver it to your customers.

Unmatched Flexibility and Scalability

Iris offers businesses like yours the ability to create tailor-made, custom-built identity protection programs because we know “standard” doesn’t cut it for most organizations.

Technology-Forward Solutions

Choose from over a dozen identity and cyber protection solutions, giving you complete control over the features that fit your market best. We’re here to help our partners create the perfect package that meets their business and customer needs.

Experiences

Deliver identity protection exactly how you want – whether that’s within your existing digital experience via API integration, with our web-based portal in your branding, or with a standalone feature set up as a micro-experience.

Enrollment

Enable your customers’ access to your identity protection services in a way that works for your business – whether that means they connect through your existing system via single sign-on, promo code, member ID, API, or something else. The customer journey is up to you.
